

Hello Theater Patron,

iDiOM Theater is The Hardest Working Theater in the Known World, offering a stunning array of original world premier theater and taking risks that few other theaters are willing to take.

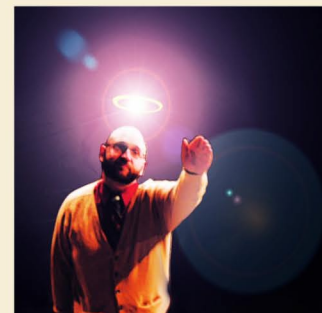

iDiOM is gearing up for its upcoming reopening and new season, and we are looking for a community of Patron Saints to help us continue to establish our reputation as one of the most innovative theaters in the Pacific Northwest.

As we prepare to launch iDiOM's rebirth as a staff-run non-profit theater in August of 2009, we are seeking financial support for our 2009-2010 season.

Here are some highlights of the season, which is packed with daring and amazing theater created by local writers, actors and directors, as well as imported shows from around the region, the nation and the world:

Season Highlights:

- A brand new installment of The Cody Rivers Show
- A world premier serial play written and directed by Glenn Apollo Hergenbahn
- The iDiOM Theater New Works Festival
- 48-hour Theater Festivals
- 'The West,' a hybrid music/theater/performance piece by acclaimed Seattle art-pop collective "Awesome"
- Oh so much more...

Be a Patron Saint Now!

We produce an incredible amount of theater for audiences in Bellingham and Whatcom County, offering low cost and free tickets to guarantee that all members of our community have access to live performance, regardless of their means.

Your financial contribution to iDiOM Theater allows us to keep the doors open, continue to support local artists, and generate tons and tons of original world premier work.

A minimum donation of $50 immediately transforms you into a Patron Saint of iDiOM Theater, and beyond helping to shore up your credentials as a Good Person, Patron Saint-hood will earn you the following:

- A special limited-run iDiOM Theater t-shirt for Patron Saints only
- Two 2-for-1 passes to any iDiOM show
- Special recognition for your generosity
- The undying gratitude of the iDiOM Theater community
